Indian Days, May 27th

"Indian Days" will be a feature event in Blairmore on May 27th when some 40 Indians of the Peigan reserve will be visiting Blairmore to put on an exhibition of "Chicken", "Owl" and other Indian dances as a pre-advent of Indian Days to be held during various dates this coming summer.

Arrangements for this colorful affair were completed by the Blairmore Lions Club in co-operation with the Board of Trade, after the Lions Club were visited and addressed by Chief Crowshaw of the Peigan Reserve and Chief Charlie Crow Eagle.

Addressing the Lions Chief Crowshaw told of the formation of the Red Coat Society of the Peigan Indian Band.

He said the tribe had formed a society to comprise chiefs of the bands and others of the reserve.

It is also the intention of the Indians to confer the honor of being a chief in the Society on other notable people in Canada.

It is not the intention of the Indians to allow this honor to become commercialized but it is the intention of the Indians to accept those that they wish and who have shown by their associations with Indians that they are friends of the Indians and have the Indians at heart.

The Mounted Police have always co-operated with the Indians and have helped them and as a result of this the name "Red Coat" was chosen for the select society.

The Society features a flag bearing a Mountie on one side of a teepee and an Indian Chief on the other side. This will commemorate the excellent relationship and co-operation that the Indians have had with the Mounted Police since the signing of the treaty on September 22nd, 1877. After having told the history of the Red Coat Society Chief Crowshaw told the Lions that as part of the Indian Days to be held in Blairmore May 27th, Corporal Fred Murray of Blairmore detachment of the RCMP would be presented with a head dress as Corporal Murray had been granted an honorary chieftainship in the Red Coat Society on the Peigan Indian Band on August 13, 1960, at Brocket, Alberta.

Chief Charlie Crow Eagle then informed the Lions Club that Corporal Murray had been accepted into the Society and had been given the name of "Ka-Yu-Po-Car", which in our language means "Bearchild".

He stated that the name Bearchild had originated from a young Indian youth who had travelled to North Dakota and got involved in an Indian War. The party became trapped in a gulley and the young Indian with the courage of a bear led his party to safety and as a result was named Bearchild.

Bearchild died in 1900 and was buried in Browning, but since he wished to be buried in his native soil he was returned to his Peigan land.

He stated that the name Bearchild was a famous name to the Indians and it was a high honor to Corporal Murray to have been given this chosen name. He mentioned that the force realized that this great honor was only to Corporal Murray but to the Red Coats as a whole for their consideration, co-operation and guidance since the signing of the Treaty.

Both speakers were given hearty votes of thanks for their interesting addresses after which films and slides on Indian Days at Brocket last year, were enjoyed.

Harry Boulton, Well-known Oldtimer Passes May 11

James Henry "Harry" Boulton, highly esteemed pioneer resident of Coleman, passed away in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Thursday morning, May 11th, following a few months period of ill health.

Harry as he was known to his many friends was 76 years of age and was born in Perth, Ontario, on February 10, 1885. He came west to Coleman in 1903 and worked at the McLaren's Mill for some time before going into the business of hauling props for the International Mine when it opened.

He later went into the Forestry Service and was a Forest Ranger at Coleman for 35 years. He retired from this service 14 years ago and operated a ranch at Sentinel for ten years before moving to Coleman four years ago.

He was very active in the Coleman Board of Trade affairs, and the Coleman Rodeo committee, and was an ardent curler as well as a former member of the Coleman Elks Lodge and the Oddfellows Lodge. He was of the Anglican Faith.

He is survived by his wife Charlotte of Coleman, a son Ross and eight grandchildren of Seattle, Wash., and by one brother Morton of St. Catharines, Ontario. He was predeceased by a brother Fred in Calgary.

Another link in the chain of old timers has been broken, his cheery smile, kind neighborly acts, will be missed by his many friends and neighbors.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Alban's Anglican Church at 2:30 p.m. Monday afternoon, May 15, with interment in Coleman Union cemetery.

Hymns sung were "Jesus Stands Among Us" and "I Know My Redeemer Lives". Mrs. S. Penney presided at the organ and the choir was in attendance. Rev. P. E. Millen of Blairmore officiated. Hall's Funeral Services Ltd. of Blairmore were in charge of arrangements.

Scouts Bean Supper Real Success

The Lions Scout bean supper held in the Elks hall on Saturday, May 13 was a success and the Group committee wish to thank all those who bought tickets and those who were able to attend.

Thanks go to the mothers and fathers, and to the merchants of the Pass and to anyone who helped in any way.

The response to the call of this worthy organization has always been magnificent—be it a bottle drive, tea or supper and once again the people of the Pass have proven themselves in this latest appeal. These boys are the young men of the future; citizens that will take their place in life with the knowledge that through the Boy Scouts, with the backing of their own communities, they have a firm foundation on which to stand.

East Coleman Ratepayers Hold Meeting

A meeting of the East Coleman Ratepayers' Committee was held last week under the chairmanship of President Ed Churla and Secretary Steve Mraz.

The committee met with Mr. McFetridge, assistant engineer and district foreman, Mr. Simpson, of Lethbridge; William Kovach, M.L.A. of Hillcrest, and Joe Hanrahan of the Department of Highways, Coleman.

Purpose of the meeting was to discuss a possible road paving program or sidewalk program for East Coleman which is an organized area in Improvement District No. 10 under the provincial government's five-year plan.

Although there seemed to be some desire to do a sidewalk paving project in several areas some of the committee felt that a road paving program would be more beneficial as during winter months when snow is more plentiful, roads would be plowed but there was some doubt about sidewalks being plowed out.

No decision has as yet been made as to what work is to be done.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Harris)

A Tax Collector Laughs

I find nothing funny about taxes. I firmly believe that unless there are large reductions in Canadian tax rates, our price structure is going to mount so high that consumers, both at home and abroad, will turn their backs on Canadian products. So the fact that our chief tax collector, the Hon. George C. Nowlan, was able to get a tummy-chuckle out of me ought to put him a notch above Jack Benny.

Mr. Nowlan told of writing to a taxpayer in the Province of Quebec to ask him what was the length of his residence there. He replied saying that he was at a loss to understand why they required such information and what the blank business it was of theirs as to the length of his residence, but if they had to have it, he would inform them that it was 42 feet long.

He told, too, of one male taxpayer who listed himself as single in his return, but made a deduction for a dependent infant son. The assessor wrote him and said he presumed this was due to a stenographer's error. The taxpayer simply returned the Department's letter with the notation, "It sure was."

Mr. Nowlan also passed along a tip to the smugglers who try to avoid customs duties at the border. He said, "Look the Officer straight in the eye, smile, be nonchalant, and for heaven's sake, stop putting that match in your mouth and trying to light it with your cigaret."

Those were the jokes.

The rest of Mr. Nowlan's talk was not funny. He told how Government spending has risen from $208 million to over $6 billion since 1914. He pointed out that the expenditure of public monies on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation alone last year was more than one quarter of the total Government expenditures in 1914. He said that from the income-earning portion of the mere 18 million people in Canada, the department had to collect over $3 billion in income taxes last year. On top of that they took in over $2 billion in customs duties and excise taxes. "That is too large an amount for most of us to comprehend," he said, in a masterpiece of understatement.

He broke it down for us.

It means that the cash registers of the National Revenue Department ring up $2,630,-814 every hour of a working day, and this goes on the whole year through.

Did he give any hope of a tax cut?

No, ma'am. He said, "With fixed charges and statutory enactments with which we are confronted, the tax collector has to work very hard in order to supply the Minister of Finance with the monies which he requires."

What Your Donation To Polio Campaign Does

The Polio Foundation gives assistance to the victims of polio and their families in the following ways

- (1) It provides transportation by ambulance or by air from the patient's home to the nearest hospital
- (2) It has set up at strategic places throughout the province seven portable respirators which are available to ambulance units to bring the victim to the hospital. This has saved many lives, and in addition to these services the Polio Foundation pays for the doctor and nurse who generally accompany the patient to the Isolation hospital.
- (3) While the patient is still in the hospital, or when they go home they need to have specially fitted wheel chairs, the average cost of which is around $300.00.
- (4) Where the mother of a family has polio the Foundation pays for housekeeping services in order to keep the family together while she is in hospital, or to assist her after she is home from the hospital, but still paralyzed.
- (5) Where the father of the family assists financially in order to make up for wages or income which he loses while in hospital and unable to work.
- (6) Where the patient has recovered sufficiently to start thinking about work again it is frequently necessary for him to be re-trained for a new kind of work or rehabilitated, and the Polio Foundation will assist in paying for the course necessary.

(7) In addition we have set aside the sum of $5000 for medical research and we also sponsor scholarships and bursaries for the training of physiotherapists and for sending doctors and nurses to other larger centres specializing in the care of polio so that they may bring their knowledge back to Alberta to impart to others.

(8) You will realize that where a child is crippled with polio the question of adjusting braces to the growing child is a constant problem as is the question of proper shoes or boots where needed.

(9) In addition we encourage studies both at Grade school and at University and also at Technical Schools and we have several children who are receiving education grants and many others who have received assistance in stenographic training or bookkeeping. One of our most recent cases has provided the money for a girl living many miles from a school to move into a town to complete her Grade 11 and 12 education. She is a wheel-chair patient. In short we try to make available to the child in accordance with its physical and mental capacity, the opportunity to become a useful, self-supporting citizen, adjusted to his disability and integrated into the community. This, of course is the ideal but frequently because of human failure and also because of the fact that our full program of assistance is not realized this goal is not attained. Very recently we have been working very closely both with the Provincial Department of Rehabilitation of Disabled Persons and the Department of Education.

At the present time the Polio Foundation is spending approximately $10,000 a month in the Province of Alberta, looking after polio victims and their families and training people in the care of polio. Even if the Salk Vaccine is the complete answer and there was no more polio there would still be hundreds of people crippled by the disease and would need the help of the general public which is channelled through Polio Foundation.

Each year we publish an audited statement dealing with the funds of the Polio Foundation and from that it is seen that the costs of administration in putting on the annual campaign is the smallest of any of the large fund-raising campaigns throughout the province for public welfare.

Although the Polio Foundation is sponsored by the Canadian Legion, the funds are completely separated in a Trust Fund of their own, and are administered by a special committee who are in turn advised by a medical committee made up of Orthopedic Surgeons and General Practitioners from all parts of the province.

Change of Address Announcement Cards

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates that one-third of the population of Canada moves each year. This poses a problem on the Post Office to keep up with this migration.

In order to encourage patrons to notify their correspondents of their change of address, the Post Office has now available a new card - "Change of Address Announcement". This card passes through the mail "postage free" to Canada, United States and Mexico. It may also be used for other countries by affixing two cents in postage.

This card must not be confused with the official "Change of Address Notice", which is addressed to the Postmaster. This card also passes "postage free", and is the official authority for a change of address.

It is suggested that when patrons move they use both cards, - one to notify the Postmaster where they have been receiving their mail and the other to advise their correspondent as to the new address.

Any number of the new cards can be obtained from your Postmaster. Patrons are reminded that official Change of Address notices are good for 90 days after the move and may be renewed after that period, if mail is likely to be sent to the former address.

Long considered a woman's disease, cancer now takes the lives of more men than women. Most of the increased incidence in men is due to lung cancer. The Canadian Cancer Society needs your help to learn more about this disease and to stop its toll of both men and women - and children.

The Newer Ghost Dam

The Old Horseshoe Dam

CALGARY POWER LTD.

SERVING THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

Here's a real saga of the old West, a story that fires the imagination of every Westerner. The building of HORSESHOE, the first major hydro-electric development in the West, is a story of courage and vision that helped to open up this country.

In the early 1900's the only source of hydro power in the West was a small 280 h.p. water wheel plant at the Eau Claire sawmill on the Bow River. However, in 1909 work started on HORSESHOE. Imagine the problems of excavating without modern power equipment. The only power was muscle . . . provided by 200 men with picks and shovels. Horsepower was just that . . . horse drawn slips and fresnos.

Cement came by rail spur from the Canada Cement Plant at Exshaw, and sand and gravel (150 car loads) was hauled in by rail to be fed to the cement mixers. Friendly Stony Indians dropped into the camp from time to time.

The trials and tribulations were many. At one time the complete coffer dam was washed out by a flood. Slowly, however, the dam took shape and on May 21, 1911 HORSESHOE was completed with a capacity of 20,000 h.p. Here is a lasting memorial to the courage and vision of the men who planned and built the first large hydro-electric development "out West".

The Coleman Lions held its regular meeting last week when it was announced that confirmation had been received that six Coleman Boy Scouts will be attending the Jamboree in Ottawa in July.

The Scouts that will attend are im. Montabetti, Alois Szymanski, Bob Liddell, Randy Fern, Ken Murdoch and Don Fleming.

The Scouts are scheduled to leave Lethbridge by train on July 3rd where they will join a contingent for the trip and the camp.

They will arrive in Ottawa about noon July 6th in time to reach camp at a nearby lake before evening. The return trip will begin on Saturday, July 15 and will arrive in Lethbridge noon on the 18th.

The committee are planning on having a bottle drive on Saturday, June 3rd and all persons wishing to donate bottles should have them ready so that collectors are not held up.

Persons wishing bottles picked up before that date can do so by phoning 3814, Coleman.

Hudz Home Prey To Fire

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the frame home of Mrs. Mary Hudz of East Coleman, around 2:00 a.m. Thursday, May 11.

The Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade were called but the fire was so far advanced that it was impossible to save the home or furniture although several trunks and small articles were removed from the home.

Firemen used the pumper unit to battle the flames and then reverted to pumping water from the Crows Nest River.

Partial insurance was carried on the home. Mrs. Hudz, a widow, has a son, Mike, in Calgary.

Speeder Draws Heavy Fine

Veral M. Nepstock of North Surrey, Westminister, B. C., and a new arrival in Blairmore, appeared before Magistrate F. S. Radford of Blairmore, Thursday morning on a charge of careless driving.

Pleading guilty to the offence, Nepstock was fined $100 and costs and had his licence suspended for a six-month period.

The case arose as the result of a wild chase shortly after 9:30 p.m. Wednesday night when Chief of Police Ed Carson of Coleman took after the speeder, who was doing 70 miles an hour through town. The chase lasted over a mile and the driver of the car hit speeds up to 100 miles an hour in a Mercury car equipped with a Thunderbird motor.

The car slowed down on the western outskirts of Blairmore where Nepstock turned off the highway into a construction firm property. Weather at the time of the chase was rainy and visibility was poor. Nepstock is a former race car driver.

Critical Times For Sunday

TORONTO, Ont. — The advances of automation are affecting Sunday custom, asserts the annual report of the Lord's Day Alliance just released. "Inexorable," the report affirms, and points out that new ways of life are creating new problems.

Automation and unemployment are being used as plausible reasons for Sunday work. Businesses, small and big, are increasing their encroachments upon the common day of rest, and the Alliance has registered strong objections with provincial attorneys-general.

Industrial plants in significant areas of the Canadian economy have revealed their intention, unless prevented, of using Sunday for additional production. The report deprecates the high-sounding phrase being used by industry to justify these encroachments. —

"Maximum utilization of productive capacity" in the estimation of the Alliance means "using equipment on Sunday" with a view to profits.

The report strikes out at industry's creation of an artificial state of emergency by promising delivery of manufactured goods so much earlier than a competitor, that Sunday work becomes unavoidable and is defended as necessary.

The Alliance is studying widely expressed convictions that Sunday's freedom from work should be better provided for by law.

There is a growing demand among the churches, the report says, for more satisfactory dealing by the authorities with the Sunday situation by way of:

1. A review and fresh appraisal of Sunday law;
2. Appropriate change in law to meet legitimate desire for Sunday entertainment when it is non-profit-making and of cultural character; and
3. Improvement in law enforcement to keep the gates closed against any increase of business or industrial activity, or any kind of work for gain which goes beyond considerations of necessity and mercy.

The report claims that the highest use of Sunday is religious and that this must be voluntary and without legal constraints.

Little Bow's Big First!

Residents of the Little Bow Hospital District have become the first in Alberta to realize the advantages of having their district classified as a group, for medical insurance purposes. Little Bow Hospital District, which includes the villages of Carmangay and Champion enrolled as a group with Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated. Coverage became effective February 1st.

Primarily, group coverage is sought by employer - employee groups, but this type of contract is also available to residents of areas such as school, hospital or municipal districts, who organize as a unit. Many Albertans, however, still lack the necessary affiliation with an appropriate group. For these residents, M.S.I. offers coverage at a slightly higher rate under convenient non-group contracts.

At the latest count, membership in M.S.I. numbered over 400,000 and a sizeable percentage of Albertans now enjoy the advantages provided by comprehensive pre-paid medical care. The greatest of these benefits is freedom from the worry of meeting unexpected medical bills. In addition, M.S.I. offers an unrestricted choice of doctor; also medical care outside the province, should it be necessary.

Because M.S.I. is a non-profit organization paying no dividends or commissions to agents or salesmen, rates are maintained at the lowest possible level. The sole purpose of M.S.I. is to provide the people of Alberta with a comprehensive pre-paid medical care plan. M.S.I. is sponsored by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta which means, in effect, that M.S.I. is sponsored by each member's own doctor.

Vehicle Check Is Driver's Duty

"Only one person in all the world can prevent a traffic accident," claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

"You!"

Contrary to some popular belief, says the Council, it is not the "other fellow" who is at fault when a highway accident occurs. Some individual is responsible, — some one person who either did what he should not do, or did not do something he should. This, the Council declares, pertains to discovering and correcting unsafe vehicles and parts.

Particularly after a winter of hard driving, every driver should have his vehicle carefully and thoroughly inspected and worn parts replaced. He should be sure his car is in safe condition for spring and summer driving ahead.

"The Council, through its Vehicle Safety committee, annually sponsors the May-long drive to promote car-check and vehicle safety. Its slogan this year will be "Safety is in your hands."

Reflections on rehabilitation

The following is from the Workmen's Compensation Board bulletin for January.

Doctors frequently wonder why there is sometimes a delay in returning the disabled to suitable employment.

Vocational counselling which is an important part of rehabilitation is usually done in conjunction with medical treatment. In many cases it takes a long time for the workman to recognize and begin to accept his need to make a vocational readjustment.

There are a great many factors which enter into the situation. — Some workmen want to try out their old jobs before they are willing to consider a new vocation. Sometimes it takes a long time for a man to accept his disability and avail himself of rehabilitation services.

In addition to physical limitations, many workmen have educational age and language handicaps which limit their opportunities for vocational training. For these workmen, placement in light employment is usually the answer, but the success of this depends on employment conditions. The basic industries — such as logging, sawmilling, construction and mining are usually unable to offer light work and there is not enough secondary industry in British Columbia to provide the opportunities for selective placement.

But there are other reasons for a protracted rehabilitation. Vocational planning requires the provision of services but it also requires the voluntary participation of the workman.

Working in conjunction with the workman's doctor the Vocational Counsellor can help the workman to attempt to work out realistically his vocational readjustment plans in the light of his disability. However, unless the workman is ready to make the adjustment then even the best services can be of little value.

What does the disabled workman want to do?

Is it practicable? What resources are available in the community to help him?

These are the important considerations in vocational counselling. It is the function of the Vocational Rehabilitation Department to assist the workman in making adjustment and in assisting him to return to gainful employment as soon as possible. Rehabilitation is not achieved easily. It requires a close partnership between the services and the disabled if it is to be successful.

Letter of Interest Re Retirement Of Joe Plante

173 Lowther Ave.,
Toronto 4, Ont.,
May 8, 1961.

Dear Mr. Holstead:

It is with interest I read your item of the retirement of Joe Plante after 50 years' service and I have taken the liberty of offering this little "salute" to him through the medium of your paper. Also I am enclosing some verses which I feel will cause amusement and yet be expressed a real truth by your readers.

Hoping you will find a spot for these small contributions and thanking you in anticipation.

Sincerely,

Mary Antrobus.
"As an old-timer and for many years a business woman in Coleman, I joyfully salute another old-timer in the person of Joe Plante, who is retiring from service of FIFTY years with the CPR, and I join many others of the past years who lived in the town, in extending to him warm wishes for a peaceful retirement.

How well I remember Joe delivering freight and express by horse and dray and no matter what the weather came to be, as long as the trains got through, Joe picked up his load and came in with the weather and a cheerful "good morning, Ma'am". Often the weather was so severe that I would ask "how can you say Good Morning on such a day?" and with a grin Joe would ask me to sign the slip and away he would go.

He has become a well known figure throughout the years and although I have been away from Coleman for nearly thirteen years, I can still see Joe as part of the everyday work of the town.

If one stops to think for a moment, astounding figures would mount to express the tons of groceries he has dropped off at the stores, numberless cartons of shoes, dresswear, hardware, school supplies, candy, ice cream and car parts and tires, in the course of FIFTY years and I think all will remember his cheery manner and unfailing regularity.

Joe must have many tales to tell. I recall he was one of the main witnesses in the Placorello trial, and when questioned by the lawyer as to the side from which he saw the incident, replied "from the off side"; the lawyer, trying to confuse Joe, rather ridiculed the expression of "off side", which in a term of horses, is correct. It was amusing to listen to Joe's opinion of the lawyer's ignorance after the trial and is perhaps better not printed.

I recall the Blacksmith Shop or Plante & Antell's barn, as it was called at the east end of Main St., and the little house on the corner where they lived before moving to the one across from the Miners' old hospital.

As we of the retiring age look back over the years, we see many changes and I often wonder if in the next fifty years has as many wondrous things in store for the world as our generation has been privileged to witness.

Who knows — perhaps one of the next generation may be a pilot of a rocket carrying freight and express to the Moon. This sounds folly now, but then so did many of the things we have become accustomed to today and now are accepted as the ordinary happenings of life. So to Joe and Mrs. Plante, kind thoughts and good wishes go out from a community which through the FIFTY years has spread far afield."

"THE TRUTH AS WE KNOW IT"

How do I know that my youth is all spent?
Well, my get up and go has got up and went.
But in spite of it all, I am able to grin.
When I think of the places my get up has been.

Old age is golden — so I've heard it said,
But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed,
With my feet in a drawer and my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.
'Efe sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself,
Is there anything more I should lay on the shelf?
And I'm happy to say as I close my door,
My friends are the same, perhaps even more.

When I was young my slippers were red,
I could kick my heels right over my head.
When I grew older my slippers were blue,
But still I could dance the whole night through.
Now I am old, my slippers are black,
I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know my youth is all spent,
My get up and go has got up and went.

But I don't mind when I think with a grin,
Of all the grand places my get up has been.
Since I have retired from life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition.
I get up each morning, dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper and read the obits;
If my name is still missing, I know I'm not dead,
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Value of lumber and forest products in Alberta last year was $16,500,000.

1961 Census Of Canada in June

Local preparations for the 1961 Census of Canada which begins June 1st, are now underway according to H. Jack Dyer, Census Commissioner for Pincher Creek-Crows Nest Pass district.

This district has been sub-divided into 25 areas and will require a staff of 24 census takers, who have now been appointed. They will carry an identification card with them, stating they have been appointed by the Minister of Trade and Commerce for the taking of the 1961 census, and that they are authorized by law to collect the required facts, this card will have the census takers own signature, and will be countersigned by the Commissioner for that district.

The census taker will also carry an official portfolio, indicating a district number, enumeration area number, and the census taker's own name and telephone number. In the portfolio will be forms which the census taker will complete by asking questions.

Census takers are forbidden to conduct any private business while making their call. They and all other employees of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are under oath not to reveal a single item about any individual, under penalty of fine, imprisonment, or both.

The census, in short, is for statistical purposes only and on arrival at Ottawa the documents will be processed by an imagination-drying combination of a machine which can read census documents for six hundred persons per minute and transfer the facts into dots on magnetic tape, along with electronic computers which process the facts into readable tables. The machine which reads the documents was specially designed for the 1961 census, and there is no other machine like it.

This method requires all census takers to take a four half-day training course for those working in urban areas and a six half-day training course for census takers who will be taking census in rural areas.

Sometime within the last 10 days of the month of May, most house-holders and farmers will be receiving copies of the forms in their mail. It is suggested that on receipt of these forms, each householder and farmer take the opportunity to fill them out at your leisure before the census taker arrives. This will in all likelihood, save you time.

If there are any questions you are in doubt as to the answer leave them until the census taker arrives at your residence and in nearly all cases the census taker will be able to put you on the right track.

Campaign Reaches 65 Per Cent Of Objective

Campaign returns in the Alberta Red Cross appeal have reached 65 per cent of the provincial objective of $524,300 with collections of $345,148 reported to March 31. This amount includes $19,365 received from rural areas conducting March campaigns and returns of $325,783 from United Appeals held in the fall of 1960.

Returns to the same date last year amounted to $289,322 which represented 55 per cent of the 1960 provincial objective. Exceed Quota. The town of Warner in southern Alberta, was the first centre to exceed its campaign quota, while Ryley has recorded the largest increase over quota in the 1961 appeal. The northern town exceeded its objective by 46 per cent.

Campaign representatives in Midnapore, Tilley, Bryant, Cold Lake, Greencourt and Whitelaw, also report their campaigns "over the top".

Technician Takes Advantage of Cytology Course

In the crusade against cancer, Miss Louise Abousaefy is proof that donors' dollars are building a chain to some day suppress this public killer.

Miss Abousaefy, laboratory technician at the provincial laboratory of public health, has recently returned from San Francisco where she took a four-month course in cytology. Her studies were sponsored jointly by the Canadian Cancer Society and by the provincial government.

With 10 years' experience in this type of work, the slender woman enjoys erasing puzzled expressions at the word "cytology".

"It's a study of cells," she smiled. "Cells, that have been shed internally instead of externally like in the case of peeling after a sun-burn."

Through a microscope, an investigation of these cells can lead to the detection of cancer when a growth is too small to be seen or felt on examination by a physician.

The chances of a cure at this stage of the game reports Miss Abousaefy, are almost 100 per cent. This method of detection, developed by Dr. G. Papanicolaou in 1927, is particularly valuable in the diagnosis of womb cancer in women, she said.

The greatest problem, at present is there are not enough cytotechnicians to make mass screenings, stated Miss Abousaefy. It could do much to cut down the cancer rate, if all women over 35 (the danger age) could take a test.

"Just now it's impossible, and only suspicious cases are handled," added the cytotechnician. At present she investigates up to 30 slides a day. Because of close work with the microscope, any more investigation places a strain on the eyes. Slides arriving Miss Abousaefy's laboratory on the grounds of Baker Memorial Sanatorium, are prepared in the doctor's office.

She then stains and screens the smears for the presence of any abnormal or malignant cells.

"It can become especially routine if all the results are negative," she said. "But then, I suppose it's a relief to the patient."

There are only one or two positive findings per thousand cases in a mass screening, reports Miss Abousaefy.

If the slide is positive, suspicious areas are marked with India ink and passed on for further study to a pathologist before a final report is sent back to the doctor and an almost sure cure can be started.
